Striking Leetonia Pupils Back In Classrooms

These Leetonia High pupils milled about in front of the school building Tuesday afternoon, chanting "we want our teachers," after the school board declined to rehire several instructors.

LEETONIA, March 29—School attendance at Leetonia High was normal again, today after an afternoon strike yesterday of some 75 to 100 students protesting the school board's failure to renew contracts of six teachers.

The demonstration by the pupils ended after school administrators and parents last night persuaded the boys and girls to return. Acting Superintendent

Curtis C. Allison told a group of the students that their protest would not force the board to rescind its action.

Some parents accompanied their children to school this morning to see that they were in class when the tardy bell rang. Pupils definitely connected with yesterday afternoon's strike will get "failure" for the day's studies, Supt. Allison said.

The Leetonia board of education Monday night failed to renew the contracts of Football and Basketball Coach Harold Morrow, his assistant, Andrew Mrucik, Supt. Allison and Principal W. H. Bailey. Allison holds a continuing contract, however, and his tenure as a teacher can not be broken. He has taught in Leetonia three years and was given the position of acting superintendent when F. R. Narra-gon resigned last fall.

Lawton To Be Budget Director

Pace To Move In As Secretary Of Army

KEY WEST, Fla., March 29—(AP) — Authoritative White House sources said today Frederick J. Lawton, 49-year-old government career officer, has been picked by President Truman as his next director of the budget.

A native of Washington and a veteran of nearly 30 years of federal service, Lawton will succeed Budget Director Frank Pace, Jr., an Arkansian, when the latter is chosen Secretary of the Army, these sources reported.

The officials, declining the use of their names, said the two promotions are included in a list of expected Administration changes, many of which will be announced from Mr. Truman's winter White House shortly.

Lawton, who has been with the Budget Bureau for 15 years, is now assistant director. Like Pace, he is a lawyer as well as an accountant. He has been a key figure in the operations of the Bureau for many years.

Other changes under consideration would shift Secretary of the Air Force Symington to the long vacant chairmanship of the National Security Resources Board and move Thomas K. Finletter into the secretaryship of the Air Force.

Finletter, former ECA chief in London, was the author of the "Finletter report" on national air policy.

The President may delay the naming of a new chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission until after his return to Washington. There will be a vacancy on the commission April 15 when Lewis Strauss leaves to rest on his farm in Virginia.

Secretary of the Army Gordon Gray is resigning to take over the presidency of the University of North Carolina and White House officials say Mr. Truman wants Pace to succeed him.

Other impending vacancies include the undersecretaryship of the army. Tracy Voorhees is leaving not later than June 30. Meanwhile Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney disclosed yesterday he has submitted his resignation as undersecretary of commerce, effective May 1.

Acheson, Jessup To Give Senate Look At Asia Plans

WASHINGTON, March 29—(AP)—Secretary of State Acheson and Roving Ambassador Philip Jessup today will give Senators their first close look at Administration plans to check Communism in Asia.

The two top-ranking diplomats—both targets of Republican attacks—were called before the Senate foreign relations committee for a review of the Far Eastern situation.

Probable topics at the closed-door session included:

(1) A developing policy of limited economic and military aid for non-Communist countries in the Far East.

(2) A report by Jessup on what he found on his recent on-the-spot study of the Asian situation.

(3) A meeting by the Western powers in London early in May to review cold war problems.

(4) The desirability of an early peace treaty with Japan—either with or without Russian cooperation.

The meeting spotlighted not only the Administration's cold war strategy but also Acheson's efforts to strengthen the State Department against GOP assaults.

Acheson's latest move was the appointment of a Kentucky Republican—former Senator John Sherman Cooper—to serve as one of his principal advisers at the London meetings along with Jessup.

House Cuts Into ECA Funds

GOP Presses For Added Economies

WASHINGTON, March 29—(AP) — Republicans clamoring for deep slashes in government spending today pressed an advantage won in a $250,000,000 cut in the 1951 foreign economic aid program.

Republican economy strength won its first real test yesterday when the House tentatively lopped a quarter billion dollars from European recovery funds. The vote was 165 to 163.

This reduced the Administration's Marshall plan program for Western Europe from $2,950,000,000 to $2,700,000,000 in new authorizations.

Still to come under fire were aid to Korea and China, and requests for funds to launch President Truman's "Point Four" program of technical assistance to underdeveloped areas of the world.

All are parts of the Administration's $3,372,450,000 — less $250,000,000, now—program of all foreign economic aid during the 12 months starting July 1.

The foreign aid cut was only half of what the GOP economy drive was shooting for.

Before whacking $250,000,000 of Europe's Marshall plan aid, the House administered a 152 to 137 defeat to a GOP-backed drive to reduce it by $500,000,000.

As the House continued with the foreign aid bill today, Republican strategists still were far from agreement on the larger question of how to make substantial cuts in a pending $29,000,000,000 domestic appropriations bill.

Atlantic Pact Ministers To Map New Moves

Cold War Offensive Subject Of May 8 Sessions In London

LONDON, March 29—(AP)—The foreign ministers of the 12 Atlantic Pact nations will meet in London May 8 to chart new Western moves in the cold war and present Russia with a greater, unified strength.

Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin, announcing the date of the meeting last night, said he foresaw a long peace if the Atlantic alliance grew firmer and the Eastern world could be held as its ally.

"I think the day is not far distant," said Bevin, "when the growth of this power will create a situation where there will be no alternative but to negotiate, to settle once and for all this problem that has cursed the world for so long."

His words were taken to mean he thought the Soviet Union, facing the combined Western strength, would have no alternative but to negotiate with the west on problems dividing the world.

The meeting of the 12 foreign ministers, who make up the council of the year-old Atlantic pact, was called by U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson, chairman of the council, at Britain's suggestion.

Along with this meeting Bevin announced that he, Acheson and France's Foreign Minister Robert Schuman would hold a separate Big Three conference.

Thus, the Atlantic Pact machine begins to roll into high gear. Bevin told commons there was a growing desire among the allied nations to deal with economic and political problems as well as with mutual defense.

In line with this the finance ministers of the 12 nations meet here today to discuss arrangements for financing the defense of the allied Western world.

Military chiefs of staff of the 12 nations—yesterday in The Hague, Holland, adopted unanimously an integrated plan assigning responsibilities to each nation for the defense of the whole alliance.

The defense ministers of the member nations are to meet in The Hague Saturday to study reports from financial and military committees.

Loyalty Files Subpoenaed By Senate Group

Chances Slight Of Success After Truman's Refusal

WASHINGTON, March 29—(AP)—Balked by President Truman after asking politely, a Senate committee today set out to force him to turn over secret loyalty files.

It sent the Senate's sergeant at arms out with a summons directing three high government officials to produce employe files for its communism investigation. But there seemed small chance they would comply after Mr. Truman from Key West, Fla., refused to make the files public.

Secretary of State Acheson, Attorney General McGrath and Harry Mitchell, chairman of the Civil Service Commission, were named in subpoenas issued by a Senate foreign relations subcommittee and put in the hands of Joseph Duke, the sergeant at arms, for service.

The subcommittee, investigating charges by Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) of Soviet espionage activities linked to the State Department, demanded the full loyalty files reaching back to Jan. 1, 1940 for about 90 persons. The files sought are in the State Department, the Civil Service loyalty board and the FBI.

The subpoenas would require the personal presence of Acheson, McGrath and Mitchell—with the files—before the inquiry group next Tuesday.

The five member committee took this action yesterday after President Truman said in a letter to Chairman Tydings (D-Md) that "the single most important element" in a fair and just loyalty program is "the preservation of all files in connection therewith in strictest confidence."

Nowhere in his letter did Mr. Truman say flatly the committee could not look at the files, a step McCarthy has contended must be taken if his charges are to be proved or disproved.

But reasons Mr. Truman gave for not opening the records were such as to indicate he will instruct the three officials involved to refuse to comply with the Senate's order, if he hasn't already.

The President said, however, that he has asked the 23-member civil service loyalty review board to check over the nearly 90 cases and report to him. He will advise the committee about the report, he said.

This brought protests by Republicans that Mr. Truman was taking the McCarthy Communist investigation out of the hands of the Senate and turning it over to clerks.

Council Passes $448,842 Measure To Run City In 1950

It will cost $448,842.47 for the City of Salem to operate during 1950, according to the annual appropriation ordinance passed by city council Tuesday night.

This amount, with a few variations, is almost identical in breakdown to the 1949 appropriation, although it is $10,314 above the grand total last year. No major changes in regular expenditures were affected, however.

The most outstanding additions in expenditures include $1,000 added to the police department fund for payment of school safety patrolmen requested by the school board at McKinley, Reilly and Columbia school intersections; $4,000 for the purchase of the West End Park property; $500 for the county law library and a slight increase in Board of Health allowance for attendance to conferences.

One cut of $500 was made in the parks fund, reducing that appropriation to $8,000 as compared to $8,500 last year. Added fire equipment this year will cost about $500 more than the usual $500 appropriation, Finance Chairman Fred Koenreich said.

Bond retirements in 1950 will total $52,360 as compared to $44,780 in 1949. The contingency fund, set high at $50,000 last year, was distributed among other funds this year and totals only $20,000 for 1950.

Koenreich said salary and wage expenditures for 1950 will be slightly higher than 1949's because the last increase in employees' pay wasn't effective until April 1, 1949. This year the increase will be for 12 full months.

The complete breakdown:

General Fund
Total $46,276, including: Council $1,664; Clerk $656; Mayor $4,300; Auditor $3,575; Treasurer $750; Solicitor $3,150; Advertising $800; Judicial $150; Miscellaneous $10,850; Contingency Fund $20,000; Civil Service $381.

Safety Fund
Total $62,635, including: Gen-Turn to 1950 FUNDS, Page 12

Cabas Quits Elyria, Seeks New Position

John Cabas, varsity football and track coach at Elyria High School for the past two years, announced Tuesday he will resign at the end of the school year.

Cabas, who piloted the Columbian Clipper basketball and football teams for four years, moved to Elyria in 1948 after coaching basketball at Case Tech for one year. He resigned at Columbian after coaching a state championship Class B team in 1947. His team was state runnerup in 1945.

He said today he has no definite plans for the future, but plans to "look around until I find the spot I want." Cabas indicated he might like to get back into the basketball coaching field. At Elyria, he was hired principally for football.

Disatisfied with unfulfilled promises at Elyria, Cabas said his resignation was purely voluntary. "I feel it's the best move for me to make," he said.

Beatrice Miller, President of Royal China At Sebring, Spark-Plugs Pottery's Success

By PEARL WALKER

SEBRING, March 28—"This is the plant that love built." In these words Beatrice Lucille Miller, president and founder of the Royal China Inc., in neighboring Sebring, revealed the secret of her company's continued success.

Miss Miller, who has the distinction of being the only woman president and founder of a dinnerware pottery in the ceramic industry declares that she is not afraid of labor strikes. "This is a family organization," she commented.

On June 1, 1934, Miss Miller and William Hebenstreit, both of Omaha, Neb., and J. B. Briggs of Sebring started the rusty and worn machinery in the old E. H. Sebring Pottery plant with the sole purpose of producing just enough dinnerware to satisfy the accounts of a sales company controlled by Miss Miller and Mr. Hebenstreit. This sales company operated for several months in

Judge Lodge Riddle

Judge Riddle Heart Victim

Veteran Lawyer Dies In Courthouse Today

LISBON, O., March 29—Former Probate Judge Lodge Riddle, 81, a practicing attorney in Columbiana county for more than a half-century, died suddenly at 9:30 this morning while seated in a chair in common pleas courtroom No. 1.

Judge Riddle was waiting with a client to have a case heard when he apparently suffered a heart attack. Norman Ward, Salem News' correspondent at the courthouse, sitting in an adjoining room, was attracted by the judge's heavy breathing and hurriedly summoned a doctor. Judge Riddle was dead, however, within a few minutes.

Admitted to the bar in 1897, he practiced law for 53 years and continued to be active despite his advanced years.

He was appointed probate judge in 1916 to succeed Louis T. Farr, who had been named to the court of appeals. He served one year, but in 1921 was elected to the probate bench and served continuously until 1934.

Active in civic affairs in Lisbon and in the county, Judge Riddle was past president of the Columbiana County Boy Scout council and had been awarded the Silver Beaver medal, highest honor that can be bestowed upon a scout.

A member of the Presbyterian church, he taught the Men's Bible Class for 30 years. He also was active in the Masonic lodge, the Knights of Pythias and the Kiwanis club.

Among the survivors are a son, Atty. Lynn Riddle of Lisbon, a daughter, Mrs. Helen Heim of the Franklin Square road north of Lisbon a stepson, George Yost and a stepdaughter, Mrs. Dorothy Henderson of Lisbon.

Atty. Lynn Riddle is in Florida, having gone there a week ago on a vacation trip.

The body is at the Bells-Leggett parlors pending funeral arrangements.

2-Story Structure To Be Built; Bonds Within 10-Mill Limit

The City of Salem is going to have its complete new city hall, with no holds barred because of increased building costs.

City council decided that Tuesday night when it officially resolved to allow the city solicitor to proceed with the issuance of $70,000 in general obligation bonds to add a second story to the project begun last week.

The additional funds will provide for the construction of a second floor on the new building at E. Pershing st. and S. Broadway, to include offices for the mayor, auditor, engineer, relief administrator and city council's chambers. The first floor will house the water fire and police departments and public rest rooms.

Council has decided to dismantle the McKelvey residence on the third lot south of E. Pershing st., and use that property for part of the city hall site as was originally intended back in 1946.

The Campbell Construction Co., of Warren has begun work on the project and can easily alter its original plans to provide for the larger building, Council President Curtis Vaughan said.

Original estimates, on which the contract was let to the Warren firm, set the one-story building at $187,060 and the two-story building at $239,995.

The additional $70,000 from the new bonds will afford sufficient funds for the full project.

The new bonds will be issued within the 10-mill tax limitation and therefore will not be assessed as added property tax money. Actually they will be included in annual operation costs to the city and will be taken from moneys received in annual distribution to municipalities by the county and state.

Squire, Sanders and Dempsey, Cleveland law firm, will be retained to assist Solicitor Walter J. Hunston in preparation of the bond ordinance, which is expected to be ready for passage at council's next meeting, April 4.

Council's action brings a solution to a problem that has been facing the city for nearly four years, when voters were asked to approve a bond issue of $160,000 for the erection of a new city hall.

The issue was passed by the voters, but after properties were purchased for the building it was found that building costs had skyrocketed above funds on hand for the project.

Council had decided to build just one story of the structure and let the completion angle wait until more money was available. This would have meant housing the mayor, auditor, engineering and relief offices, as well as council's chambers, in either the old McKelvey residence or the present city hall building. Both would have added expenses to the city in maintenance costs after the renovations necessary were completed.

Disposition of the old city hall building and site has not yet been seriously discussed by council, as legal technicalities over title to the property have to be settled. This may take five years, but at that time it is hoped, officials say, that added money can be gained from the property.

Council heard an appeal from members of the Salem Historical Society last night to preserve the old building as a possible state park. Matt J. Melitscha, president of the society, said the Ohio Historical Society is interested in its preservation for that purpose.

He told councilmen however, that the property and building would have to be donated to the state after which state funds would be provided to make the building suitable for a historic museum as a part of a state park.

More Austerity, British Told

New Cuts Ordered In British Imports

LONDON, March 29 — (AP) — Britain's shaky Labor government has ordered another dose of austerity—further cuts in purchases from the United States and other dollar countries—to cure the nation's continuing economic ills.

Plans were outlined to cut Britain's estimated dollar drain in half in 1950 by a drastic 26 percent slash in imports from hard currency countries—principally America.

The government at the same time called on Britons to work harder and more efficiently for the same wages. Exports to earn dollars must be pressed harder than ever.

An economic survey for the coming year, issued by the government today as a white paper, declared the continuance of Marshall aid "though on a diminishing scale" was the basic assumption on which the hope of progress is based.

The labor government's stern warning that the major economic and financial policies of the last three years must be continued—meaning no raises for workers and "restraint" in dividends—comes against a backdrop of increasing demands for more pay by unions.

Although the leaders of the 8,000,000 member Trades Union Congress agreed as recently as last night to go along with chancellor of the exchequer Sir Stafford Cripps in fighting wage rise pleas, it is impossible to tell how long they can stem rank and file demands.

The white paper promised, however, that food supplies are expected to be better "almost without exception" and there should be more clothing in the shops.

Overdrafts Allowed At Michigan Bank

WESTPHALIA, Mich., March 29—(UP)—Cashier Robert Bohr of the tiny Westphalia State Bank said today that he let depositors overdraw an estimated $300,000 "because I just didn't have the heart to turn them down."

"I felt sorry for the folks," Bohr said. "I knew all of them and I was sure they'd pay back the money eventually."

FBI agents entered the bank investigation as many depositors, frightened by reports of the shortage, flocked to withdraw their money.

"Nobody's going to lose anything," Bohr said. "Everybody's confused about the whole thing. I let the folks have the money because I just didn't have the heart to turn them down."

Joseph C. Murphy, chief assistant U. S. district attorney, said two state bank examiners made the shortage estimate after a quick check of the bank's books. "The books are very jumbled," Murphy said.

The 375 residents of this farm community near Lansing first learned of the "irregularities" when a depositor, trying to withdraw a considerable amount from his account, was told that bank records did not check with the sum in his pass book.

The alleged shortage far exceeds the bank's $65,000 capitalization and $45,000 surety bond.

The FBI said, however, that it had "not uncovered any criminal evidence yet."

Law Barring Reds From Schools Upheld

NEW YORK, March 29—(AP)—A New York state law barring Communists from employment in public school systems has been ruled valid for the second time in court appeals.

A double-barreled fight against the 1949 statute now is headed for the state's highest tribunal, the court of appeals.

An appellate division of the State Supreme Court in Brooklyn, ruling yesterday that the Feinberg law is constitutional, declared in a unanimous opinion:

"The constitutional right of free speech may be abridged as a condition to the enjoyment of public employment."

An appellate division of the Supreme Court at Albany ruled several weeks ago that the law is constitutional.

The appeals from rulings by individual Supreme Court justices were in similar cases.

In the Brooklyn case, the original suit to challenge the law was filed by Abraham Lederman, president of the Teachers Union, Local 555, of the United Public Workers. The United Public Workers has been ousted from the CIO on the ground of Communist domination.

In the Albany case, the New York state Communist party filed the suit. It is appealing to the state court of appeals.

Metropolitan's 1949 Payments Set Record

A total of $768,627,888 was paid by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. during 1949 to living policyholders or beneficiaries, according to T. P. Cusack, manager of the company's Salem office. This is a new high, he said.

Metropolitan had $41,699,549.717 of life insurance in force at the end of the year, which compares with $39,958,517,854 in force at the end of 1948.

Taft Backs McCarthy

ASHLAND, March 29—(UP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft (R) of Ohio has backed the demand of Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R) of Wisconsin that the Senate foreign relations subcommittee be permitted to inspect secret FBI files.

"I see no reason why the Senate investigating committees should not see those files," Sen. Taft told an audience of questioners here last night.

He added that FBI files were seen by investigating committees in the Missouri election fraud case and the Judith Coplon spy trial hearings.

Sen. Taft explained that FBI papers need not be released for publication merely because they might be seen by Senate committee members.

SEASON OPENS

LORAIN, March 29—(AP)—Lorain's 1950 shipping season officially opened yesterday with arrival of the U. S. Gypsum, a 504-foot self-unloading freighter, to take on 8,500 tons of coal at the new Baltimore & Ohio coal dock.

Bartender Sentenced For Hammer Slaying

ATHENS, March 29—(AP)—James B. Armstrong, 26, Columbus bartender, was sentenced to life in Ohio Penitentiary yesterday by a three-judge court.

Armstrong had pleaded guilty to taking part in the hammer slaying of Miss Eleanor Gifford, 52, Athens church worker, on Jan. 3, 1949.

Harry Z. Dodds, Jr., was executed Feb. 24 for the slaying, and Grover Rawlins, 18, is serving a life sentence for the same crime.

Armstrong was arrested recently in Columbus after being sought for many months under the name of "Jimmy Stewart."

License Plate Sales Will End On Friday

With more than 5,000 passenger car plates and 1,328 truck plates already sold, the local office of the Columbiana County Auto Club will continue sale of the 1950 plates through Friday.

The sale has been so brisk this month that the usual last minute rush doesn't appear to be as heavy as usual, Mrs. Nina Morris, registrar, said today.

The office has collected over $153,000 in license fees thus far. Sale of the new plates will continue, but after midnight Friday the 1949 plates cannot be used.

National 4-H Club age limits for membership are between 10 and 21.

Diplomatic Offensive Needed—Rep. Bolton

WASHINGTON, March 29—(AP)—America needs "an offensive of diplomacy, in addition to dollars" Rep. Frances Bolton (R-Ohio) told the House yesterday.

She said the foreign aid program has harmed American industry while doing good in Europe. She continued:

"But it is my conviction that we must continue a program which has done much harm to American industry simply because it has done some good in Europe. A cessation of the program now would mean disintegration in Europe and no markets at all for American industry."

The Ohio Congresswoman said she has been informed ECA officials in Europe have directed orders must be placed with "soft currency" countries if possible rather than in America.

"We must continue a transitional phase of aid to Europe until we can evolve under new leadership a dynamic offensive against both communism and defeatism socialism," she said. Such a program should be "an offensive of diplomacy, in addition to dollars," she said.

Defending the American aid program, Rep. Hays (D-Ohio) said it reached Italy "just in the nick of time" to halt communism.

Rep. McSweeney (D-Ohio), who was with the military government in Italy, said Hays' words were "accurate."

No Substitutes
LAURENCE A. STEINHARDT's death at the peak of a successful career in diplomacy occurs when competent foreign representatives are going to be harder to find. There are no immediately available substitutes for the man who had represented the United States in Stockholm, Istanbul, Moscow, Prague and was its ambassador in Ottawa at the time of his death. Nor are there likely to be many if no changes occur in the near future.

The State Department once more is coming under the scrutiny of political critics. They intend to find out, if possible, what it has been doing that causes it to be so reluctant about its records. In the familiar expression of politics there's likely to be a housecleaning—and no one with good judgment wants to be caught in a housecleaning. Until the crisis has blown over, candidates for career diplomacy will be skittish.

This is not a unique situation. There has been very little continuity of purpose in the State Department. Career diplomats have been the exception, not the rule, because the State Department has been housecleaned periodically. A diplomat like Steinhardt, though known as a careerist, was really a New Dealer who switched from law to diplomacy in 1933 and never went back to law. In 17 years he had made himself inviolable. With a little worse luck, however, he might have made himself useless. One of the hazards of diplomacy in the service of the U. S. A., as in the service of any government which makes up its foreign policy as it goes along, is to get caught on the wrong side of the fence when the gate closes.

Subversion Is Not A Civil Right
THERE should be little quarrel with the U. S. Court of Appeals' decision declaring the government's loyalty program constitutional. A lot of confused thinking has become entangled with the arguments over this program. Much of it comes from well-meaning individuals who are sincerely concerned about guarding civil liberties.

But the basic fact to remember is that an American's civil rights do not include any absolute right to work for the government regardless of his personal political views. Free speech, the right of dissent and all that have nothing to do with the issue. These are privileges that do not extend in their fullest sense to individuals who choose to work for the government.

A government has the right to command the fundamental loyalty of its employees. How could it function were it to be manned by persons bent on subverting it?

Job Shortage
IF THE tax-more-and-take-over zealots in government will shuffle through the papers on their desks again, they'll come across some fresh unemployment figures from the American Federation of Labor. In view of the A.F.L.'s passion for bigger and bigger government, some of the statements accompanying the figures are mildly surprising.

For example, A.F.L., explaining why unemployment is rising, blames it on lack of business expansion: There aren't enough new jobs being created by private enterprise to take up the employment slack.

This is probably one of the few times in history that a labor union ever admitted publicly that jobs are created by private enterprise; the orthodox union line is that private enterprise is an obstacle erected by selfish interests between wage earners and the higher wages they want and otherwise would have.

But to get back to the A.F.L. figures, they show that unemployment is edging up toward a total of 5,000,000 because not enough new jobs are being created. Nothing is said about why this is so—not a word about such handicaps on job-making as heavy taxation and labor union restrictions that rig the game the wrong way. On the contrary, there is this remarkable conclusion: That since not enough jobs are being created by private enterprise, therefore job committees should be set up in all communities "to find new jobs." The alternative, according to A.F.L. deep-thinkers, would be "huge outpourings of government funds for made-work and relief and government controls."

A better alternative would be for the A.F.L. and the C.I.O. to figure out how many jobs might be made if jobholders would cooperate with job-makers instead of making things as tough as they can for jobmakers who want to stay in business. But it would be bad labor union politics to admit that jobs must be made before they can be held.

Make Your Bids, Gentlemen
WE'RE HAPPY to note that Queen Mary, Britain's queen mother, has now done her bit to close Britain's troublesome "dollar gap." She has woven an elaborate rug, which has just arrived in New York and will be exhibited in cities throughout America.

The British government of course wants to sell the rug and it has advised us how to enter any purchase bids we may wish to make. They are to be sent to the governor of the Bank of England, in envelopes bearing the simple notation: "Queen Mary's Rug."

No boxtops from English cookie packages need be included. But be careful that you don't write: Queen Mary, Rugs. She's not in the business permanently, even though this one took her eight years.

Victory For Smathers Seen In Florida

By DAVID LAWRENCE

ENROUTE IN NORTHERN FLORIDA, March 29.—If the primary election scheduled for May 2 had been held a week ago, Sen. Pepper would have been defeated by Rep. Smathers.

But things have changed these last few days. The race is very close now, and the turn is due to the heavy registration of Negroes through the efforts of the CIO paid workers. It is too early to determine whether this will be offset by Republican voters who, in large numbers, are registering in the Democratic primaries. But that's the main hope now of the Smathers supporters. Registration ends on April 1. So this is an exciting week in Florida politics.

LEFT TO ITS OWN devices, the state would discard Sen Pepper largely because of the prejudices which have piled up against him ever since he went to Moscow and talked with Stalin, sat on the same platform with Paul Robeson and Henry Wallace in a New York political meeting, began espousing the proposal for a federal fair employment practices commission and disassociated himself from the filibuster by the southern Democrats in the senate.

Pepper has alienated some AFL voters and a large number of farm voters by his open alliance with the CIO, which is down here spending a good deal of money to register Negroes to vote for Pepper's renomination.

Sen. Pepper has been waging a vigorous campaign—promising the moon to every county. It has been calculated that if the 27 major spending projects which he has initiated or endorsed—everything from canals to bridges to Townsend plan pensions—were enacted it would cost the taxpayers of the nation about two and a half billion dollars.

THE SENATOR has been pulling rabbits out of the hat for a long time and won his 1944 election by persuading the Roosevelt administration, in the last few days of the campaign, to get rid of the tolls on the Gandy bridge, which gave him a huge vote in two populous counties in the western section of the state.

This time, with the exception of the local officeholders, the national administration is keeping neutral. President Truman at Key West has said nothing and doesn't intend to interfere to help either candidate. Mr. Truman hasn't forgotten Pepper's anti-Truman tactics in the 1948 Democratic convention.

When Sen. Pepper ran in 1944, he polled a majority of only 9,000 votes over his combined opposition in the Democratic primaries, even though his chief opponent was a weak candidate and had an organization in only 40 of the 67 counties.

Despite the heavy registration of Negroes, there is still considerable uneasiness in the Pepper camp, and one supporter of the senator, well informed on state affairs, told this correspondent that he wouldn't be surprised at a landslide for Rep. Smathers. The tide undoubtedly has been running that way, but there is a whole month ahead before the voters go to the polls. Pepper could "pull a Truman," as one observer phrased it, but the best posted men in the state frankly are expecting George Smathers to be the senator from Florida, beginning in January. Health To You

Remove Hair With Electric Needle

EXCESSIVE hair on the face, arms or legs worries a great many women. Although not dangerous to life or health, it does cause a great deal of mental suffering. Why some women have more hair than others is not clearly understood but it certainly happens. Excessive hairiness is caused by disease or rarely, in such cases there is a clue in the fact that hairiness has not always been present.

If the hair starts growing rapidly, careful physical examination and diagnostic studies should be made. In the vast majority, the hairiness of the face or arms is an inherited factor from one or the other parent may have something to do with it.

There are several ways of attacking this problem. The hair can be shaved. This is satisfactory for a short time but generally results in a gradual thickening of the hair and its even more conspicuous appearance as time goes on. The hair can be bleached or dyed but it often continues to grow out, so this has to be repeated frequently.

Other than that, there's nothing frequently. The hair may be taken off with hair removers which generally consist of some kind of wax which fastens to the hairs and pulls them out by the roots. This is painful and, of course, the hair will grow again. It is not particularly soothing to the skin either!

There are "stones" available which may be used to wear off the hair by friction. This must be frequently repeated and may irritate the skin as well. Most doctors believe that there is only one safe method of permanent removal of excessive hair. That is treating the roots of the hair by electric needle. Asian Problem

By PETER EDSON

Area More Explosive Than Balkans

WASHINGTON
WHEN the American, British and French foreign ministers hold their scheduled conference later this spring, they may have another big worry on the table before them, in addition to what to do about Russia and Germany.

It will be joint consideration of the problems of southeast Asia. This vast area from Korea to Afghanistan is now considered more explosive than the Balkans ever were. Actual war between India and Pakistan is still a possibility, and both governments are overburdened by military budgets.

The anti-Communist campaigns in Korea and Viet Nam (Indo-China) are already hot war. Burma has had continual revolts. Thailand (Siam), though comparatively rich and successfully independent, is pinched between Burma and Viet Nam. If either of these countries goes Communist, Thailand would have to follow the lead, yielding as she yielded to the Japanese in the last war.

On the edges of these critical areas are somewhat more promising conditions in Japan, the Philippines and Indonesia. But the trouble spots on the mainland hold off trade and recovery in the island countries around them. Fortunately, there is only one country that has a bad food situation—India. If there were general food shortages, the unrest would be all the greater.

POLITICALLY, all these countries save Japan and Thailand are emerging from the protection of western powers—Britain, France, The Netherlands and the United States. The new governments are weak and short on leadership. That makes them lean towards dictatorial methods. It will be a long time before they may be regarded as democracies in the western sense.

In their new nationalism and independence there is a great distrust of their former colonial masters. This carries over into a distrust of the United States everywhere save southern Korea, Japan, the Philippines and Indonesia. This one factor, it is being discovered, is what makes so difficult any program aimed at helping these countries or winning them away from the threat of Russian Communist domination.

The collapse of Nationalist government.

Cotton For China

By CLARKE BEACH

THE spindles of China's cotton mills are whirling slower and slower for lack of raw cotton. That's bad for Mao Tze-tung. It will greatly complicate the problems of his Communist government. The Office of Foreign Agricultural Relations of the U. S. Department of Agriculture reports that China's mill operations this year will be no more than 45 percent of last year's level. The seriousness of this lies in the fact that cotton textile production is by far China's largest manufacturing industry.

The cotton shortage is caused by two factors: (1) Chinese farmers aren't raising as much cotton as they said to and (2) cotton imports are declining drastically. Cotton acreage has dropped from 9,300,000 in the 1937-1938 period to 5,300,000 this year. Farmers are finding it more profitable to raise grain.

Agriculture Department observers in China estimate that the Chinese cotton crop this year won't exceed 1,700,000 bales. This is one of the smallest crops in years, less than half the production in the 1936-1938 seasons. To keep the mills running at the present rate, 1,375,000 bales would be needed for the year. But the mills don't get all of the native cotton crop. Normally about 1,000,000 bales a year are used in homes to make padded winter clothes.

The Chinese Communist regime hopes to cut down the home use of cotton this year to 825,000 bales. Then it hopes to import 400,000 bales. This would provide a total of 1,275,000 bales for the mills—still far short of current rate of use.

But the Agriculture Department men see little chance of any such volume of imports. They estimate that no more than 150,000 bales will come from the United States. And the prospects look even dimmer elsewhere. World prices of cotton are high, and except in this country supplies are scarce. India has announced that it will permit only a very limited export of cotton. China uses little of the Egyptian type.

China's position as an importer is unfavorable at this time. The Nationalist blockade of ports has discouraged shippers. The country has little foreign money or credit. And exporters in other countries don't like the terms or present contracts to supply goods to China. They don't feel too sure they will get their money.

The United States in post-war years has supplied about 300,000 bales of cotton a year through the Economic Cooperation Administration—all given free to the Chinese Nationalist government for sale to the mills. This country is NOT helping Communist China through ECA. The mill owners are going to have to pay with dollars for whatever American cotton they get. At this time, according to the department's men, Mao's government is exerting all kinds of devious pressures on the mill owners to make them use their hoarded dollar reserves to buy cotton in the United States.

From Our Readers
Against Foster Homes
Editor, The News:
I would like to have a word about these foster homes, and children's homes that were built for these children.

This is from a person that really knows what they both are and just how things go on both sides. In the first place foster homes are not no good for children as I can see it.

Here is my experience—foster homes is just a workhouse. I was in the orphan's home and was transferred to a foster home then was when every thing was young. In the first place I started to school, but had so much to do before going to school and so much to do when I got home, then my foster parents did not get enough work out of me so I just got two years going to school, second grade.

Then I had to stay home, and work was never done. At the age of 15 I was doing a grown man's work. No education but lots of hard work and got nowhere.

If there was anything to go to I stayed home, done the work and my foster parents went. If I happened to do something for someone and got a dime or so and spent it I got heck but they never thought of giving me a dime to get anything. All they wanted was my work and as a kid there was where I ruined myself, broke myself down.

When I was 21 I left. I was supposed to get $100 and a new suit of clothes. Never got anything but heck, but saved my foster parents several dollars that they did not have to pay for hired help. Never got any clothes, only hand me downs from someone else.

All my life just hard dirty work. That is what I have had from a foster home. All that are connected up with these foster homes can talk, they get paid.

Milkman Woes

HOW DO YOU turn off a milkman?

There must be a way, but in 13 days, two hours and 12 minutes I haven't figured out how to do it. It has been exactly that long since my wife left me on a three-week visit to relatives in Texas.

"It's the first time you've had the apartment all to yourself in ten years," said Frances. "Have fun, you poor thing."

The last thing I remember her saying was, "You don't have to worry about the milkman. Just tell him to stop delivery."

I have—about 12 times, including once when I took some checkers and spelled out in the doorway: "No milk." It hasn't worked. Nothing's worked. I even started delivering it back to him each night, but each morning there were just two bottles instead of one.

I suppose he finds it impossible to turn off his cows and is just passing his problem on to me. I've been relaying it to the refrigerator, but it's full now. So am I—grade A and pasteurized up to my ears.

IT'S A funny thing about milk. You can't even give it away. If you go up to a strange mother with two bottles in your hands and say, "please, lady, take this milk," she starts backing off. She thinks you have a delusion you are Napoleon playing supermarket.

The worst thing about my ever-flowing milkman is that when Frances comes home and looks in the refrigerator, she'll say, "well, Rover, couldn't you at least tell the man to stop delivering milk?" And she'll tell him once to stop and he'll stop. He'll probably even settle by taking four bottles back.

Such is the authority of wives, and the futility of husbands. As a matter of fact everything about my period of enforced bachelorhood has convinced me that a man can't really run a home by himself. He can only run it down. The man-about-the-house is just a myth.

As soon as a wife leaves, the place starts falling apart at the seams. Pants get out of press, shirts won't go to the laundry, light bulbs go out while you're reading the evening newspaper, rain comes in the window and runs onto the rug, you run out of razor blades, your shoe strings break and suspender buttons pop off like mad.

AND OF 14,000,000 men in the last war I suppose I was the only one who never learned to sew on a button. I always thought that was for first lieutenants. The most shattering blow to my pride has been my experience in the kitchen. If there was one thing I could do as a Boy Scout it was to whip up a batch of bacon and eggs.

But what has happened to eggs over the years? They cook up sentimental on one side now and cynical on the other. Every one I put in the pan ended up looking like an oyster on top and a mess of cinders on the bottom.

Of course, I could hard boil them, but there a water shortage on, and I don't want neighbors going around whispering I'm unpatriotic.

The dish I've had the best luck with so far is raw marshmallows. You eat all you want, and then spend an hour brushing the powdered sugar off your vest. But after three evenings a diet of straight marshmallows begins to lose some of its glamor. Wives are habit forming, but there's no better habit for a fellow with red thumbs. I'll be glad when mine gets back.

By Hal Boyle

A quick scanning of the agriculture census sheet reveals that non-urbanites are classified as members of the rural population if they live on anything over three acres of non-urban land, regardless of what they do. This means they will be expected to tell everything there is to tell about what's happening on their "farms." So here goes, dear Census Bureau:

The pig is doing well. The goose has laid an egg. Rabbits have eaten the bark off the two little peach trees that were set out last fall. The tame white rabbit has eaten the paint off the porch furniture stored in the barn.

The chickens are moulting. The ducks have not done anything constructive about raising a family. The pet sheep are interested in nothing but alfalfa hay and oats. Daffodils are beginning to get ideas. It looks like a big year for dandelions.

Cardinals are being joined in their early-morning yeeeping by a lot of other yeeping birds which had better conserve their strength to keep from freezing. It is muddy outside the city in the springtime. Two warm days in a row will bring out the forsythia bloom.

The creeks are beginning to clear up. Tulips are pushing through the ground. All this rain has made it tough to get firewood dried out. Field mice are moving outside for the summer. Other than that, there's nothing frequently.

Dr. Jordan that hairiness has not always been present.

If the hair starts growing rapidly, careful physical examination and diagnostic studies should be made. In the vast majority, the hairiness of the face or arms is an inherited factor from one or the other parent may have something to do with it.

There are several ways of attacking this problem. The hair can be shaved. This is satisfactory for a short time but generally results in a gradual thickening of the hair and its even more conspicuous appearance as time goes on. The hair can be bleached or dyed but it often continues to grow out, so this has to be repeated frequently.

Other than that, there's nothing frequently. The hair may be taken off with hair removers which generally consist of some kind of wax which fastens to the hairs and pulls them out by the roots. This is painful and, of course, the hair will grow again. It is not particularly soothing to the skin either!

There are "stones" available which may be used to wear off the hair by friction. This must be frequently repeated and may irritate the skin as well. Most doctors believe that there is only one safe method of permanent removal of excessive hair. That is treating the roots of the hair by electric needle. It is painful, rather expensive, and takes a lot of time. It is used frequently, however, especially for hair on the face.

Another method of removing the hair has been tried in many parts of the country. This is the use of X-rays—a dangerous method. A number of cases of severe burns caused by X-rays used for excessive hair have been reported. Recently one person complained of severe burns on the arms and legs resulting from X-ray treatments taken over a four-year period for removal of hair—but the hair was not even removed.

The only safe and permanent treatment at present seems to be electrolysis, time-consuming, and painful one of the electric needle.

Taft Plays NLRB Change

Says Truman Is Playing Politics

WASHINGTON, March 29—President Truman is using the Hoover Commission report for political purposes, U. S. Senator Robert A. Taft (R.) of Ohio charged today.

He lashed out at what he branded a plan by the President to wreck the Taft-Hartley act.

"Just as last year," Mr. Taft declared, "the President has included one plan which is not in accord with the Hoover Commission recommendation but designed to carry out a political policy of the Administration."

"That is Plan No. 12 which abolished the general counsel of the National Labor Relations Board, who was given special powers by the Taft-Hartley law, and transfers all his duties to the chairman of the board."

Senator Taft, in a report to his constituents, pointed out that the citizens' committee for reorganization of the government "specifically endorses all the other plans but does not endorse Plan No. 12."

Mr. Taft explained: "While there is a general recommendation in the Hoover report that administrative responsibility be vested in the chairman of regulatory commissions, it is clear that this refers to transferring from the board to the chairman the ordinary day-to-day matters of routine administration which should not concern a board."

"There is no indication whatever that the Hoover Commission had in mind the transfer to the chairman the extensive prosecuting functions of the NLRB which carefully had been separated by Congress for the judicial functions."

The NLRB, Mr. Taft went on, is "unique among regulatory commissions. It is peculiarly necessary," he went on, that it be impartial as between employers and labor unions, because feeling runs high between these two groups.

"Some of the greatest miscarriages of justice in American history took place under the original NLRB," the Senator declared, "and Congress was peculiarly anxious that the prosecuting functions under the general counsel be separated from the judicial proceedings of the board."

Now it is proposed to make the chairman of the board the chief prosecutor, and then let him sit as the presiding judge to determine whether his decision as prosecutor was correct.

"Labor has complained of the scope of the power given to Robert Denham as NLRB general counsel. The new plan would give three times that power to the chairman of the board and make him prosecutor, judge and jury."

"This plan is worse even than the original plan which vested all power in the board."

Stassen Limits Academic Freedom

BOCA RATON, Fla., March 29—(AP)—Academic freedom is not to be taken as a license for treason, says Harold E. Stassen, president of the University of Pennsylvania.

In an address before the 38th annual convention of the American Drug Manufacturers Association here last night, Stassen said every time in history an effort was made to create a "loafer's paradise, it ends up at a dictator's elbow."

He listed what he termed "four spearheads of danger moving down the road to the type of socialism that Britain has adopted."

The Brannan plan; proposals for nationalization of medicine similar to the one in Great Britain; a federal aid to local school districts; and the tax structure.

Ohio Jobless Oaths Upheld

Judge Rules BUC Can Require Oath

COLUMBUS, March 29—(AP)—The Bureau of Unemployment Compensation legally can require loyalty affidavits of Ohio jobless pay claimants, a Franklin county common pleas judge ruled yesterday.

The decision was handed down here by Judge Dana F. Reynolds. He dismissed a suit filed by Jack B. Dworken of Cleveland as a taxpayer.

Judge Reynolds wrote in a 22-page opinion:

"It is high time that we take protective steps to insure that the philosophy of the Declaration of Independence shall be perpetuated."

He added: "Those directly affected (jobless pay claimants) seem to have voiced no disapproval."

Dworken had asked the court to restrain Frank J. Collopy, Bureau of Unemployment Compensation Administrator, from obtaining the affidavits, to the BUC law requiring the affidavits went into effect last Oct. 18.

A Cleveland law firm (Harrison, Thomas, Spangenberg & Hull) filed a brief for the American civil liberties league which entered the case as a friend of the court.

The loyalty affidavits required before jobless pay benefits can begin declare claimants do not advocate "overthrow of the government by force" or belong to groups that do.

Judge Reynolds also said in his opinion:

"Unemployment compensation is a gratuity furnished by the state, from a fund paid in by the employees and to which the worker makes no contributions and the privilege to participate therein has been conditioned upon the recipient not being engaged in efforts to destroy the very source from which he seeks that gratuity."

"If he is so engaged, why should society be financing him in idleness, assist him in his efforts to wrong that same society?"

High Winds Fatal To Two Ohioans

ATHENS, March 29—(AP)—High winds caused two deaths in Ohio yesterday and fanned forest fires which ravaged more than 2,000 acres of state and national forest lands.

The winds reached 57 miles an hour in the southeastern Ohio timberlands. The fire hazard there was the worst this year, said District State Forester Irving Dickman, of Athens.

Timber worth more than $10,000 was destroyed as the flames swept areas in Athens, Hocking and Vinton counties. Brush and forest fires also sprang up in Guernsey and Noble counties.

Two of the fires started when the wind blew down power lines and caused short-circuits.

Scores of volunteer firemen, directed by forestry officials, combated the flames. Rain helped extinguish them last night.

Two men were killed in central Ohio.

Mrs. Robert Rheutan Hostess At Garden Study Club Party

The conservation film shown to 21 members and three guests of the Garden Study Club Monday evening traced a tiny Douglas fir seedling from its start in the forest, to full growth and to final destiny as lumber and shingles in a house.

The film, which was shown by the club president, Mrs. Wallace Duncan, also told of forest preservation and fire-fighting.

Dr. Ching Shing Lu, assistant house physician at Salem City Hospital, Mrs. John Gilbert and Mrs. Jack Tibball were the guests at the party which was held in the home of Mrs. Robert Rheutan on E. Sixth st. Associate hostesses were Mrs. William J. Mackey and Mrs. Rex Hundertmark.

An article on conservation also was Mrs. Leonard Hoppes' topic from "Garden Greetings." The "Legend of the Dogwood Tree" was related by Mrs. Carl Lehwald.

The unusual plant introduced to Garden Club members by Mrs. C. N. Raymond bears the name, "Moses in the Bull Rushes."

Flower and forced shrub arrangements of the hostess, Mrs. Rheutan, won her recognition in three classifications in the judging which preceded the meeting. She was awarded the red ribbon in both the buffet table and mantel classes and the blue ribbon for the coffee table arrangement.

Mrs. Duncan and Mrs. Russell Moore placed first and third in the buffet competition and Mrs. Mackey and Mrs. Martin Roth were first and third in mantel work. Jonquils, forsythia, pussy willows and crocus were the flower ingredients used.

Mrs. Don Aubill and Mrs. Mackey, delegates to the March

Garden Forum in Youngstown, reported on that meeting. For April Mrs. Herbert Yengling and Mrs. Aubill will make two arrangements for the garden center at the public library and Mrs. Fred Koenreich will prepare a paper to be a part of the exhibit. Plans also were discussed for the June flower show to be held jointly with the Salem Garden Club.

The appointments, when refreshments were served by the hostesses, were in keeping with the season. George Wilms will speak on "Landscaping Do's and Don'ts" at the next meeting April 24 at the home of Mrs. Eugene Early.

Lydia Bible Class Given Poetry Talk

Mrs. Thomas Crothers expressed what she believed to be the author's own interpretations of the world's great religious poetry in speaking to 30 members and guests of the Lydia Bible Class Tuesday evening.

The class, meeting in the social rooms of Holy Trinity Lutheran Church, heard her describe poetry from ballad form to free verse. She said religious poetry is found in all languages from all races and shows man's search for God and expresses his idea of God, his faith, and his rejoicing at finding the light he sought.

The Psalms of David from the Bible and the works of Carl Sandburg were quoted by Mrs. Crothers to emphasize various points. She climaxed her talk by reading the ancient ballad of Judas Iscariot (Buchanan), a poem which runs the gamut of human emotions.

Mrs. Albert Beeson sang a solo to piano accompaniment by Mrs. Celia Greenisen and Mrs. Carl Aeschlimann conducted the worship service. Roll call was answered by naming a favorite hymn.

When you are separating the whites and yolks of eggs be careful to see that the whites are free of any specks of yellow; even the tiniest bit of yolk will prevent the whites from beating up to their greatest volume. If you do have to remove a bit of yolk use a small piece of the eggshell since the yolk will adhere to it.

Eager Beavers of CCNY Top Bradley 71-68

Capture Both NIT And NCAA Titles

Bradley Almost Wins In Final 20 Seconds

NEW YORK, March 29—(AP)

—Allgeroo!
CCNY did it!

The Beavers from City College of New York beat Bradley last night to become the first team to make college basketball's grand slam — winning both the National Invitation tournament championship and the NCAA championship in the same year.

CCNY, variously dubbed "the Cinderella team" and "the team of destiny" completed its sweep of the nation's toughest teams by taking Bradley, 71-68, to replace Kentucky as the NCAA champion. A week ago Saturday the Beavers smacked Bradley, 69-61, to win the N. I. T. title.

Whereas in their first meeting CCNY came from behind in the second half and gradually drew away, Bradley almost pulled the game out of the fire in the last 20 seconds last night.

Five seconds later the Beavers made a wild pass out of bounds, giving Bradley possession, a golden opportunity to turn defeat into victory.

Gene Melchiorre, who had intercepted CCNY passes and scored three consecutive baskets in the last two minutes, drove in for another shot.

But three taller CCNY players partially blocked his shot and recovered the ball. Floyd Layne fired the length of the floor to Norm Mager for an easy layup that sewed up victory for the Beavers. There were exactly seven seconds left. Bradley did not get another shot.

Bradley was ranked No. 1 in the final Associated Press poll.

CCNY's sophomore club, unranked in the final A. P. poll because of three late season upsets at the hands of Canisius, Niagara and Syracuse, suddenly caught fire and finished the season with nine straight victories including San Francisco, Kentucky, Duquesne and Bradley in the N.I.T. and Ohio State, North Carolina State and Bradley, again, in the NCAA.

Allegero!

Until he turned the tables in the 1950 ICA indoor meet, Penn State's Jim Gehrdes had never licked Michigan State's Horace Smith in the hurdles. It was their fourth meeting.

Zoldak Stops Giants With Another Sharp Mound Show

TUCSON, Ariz., March 29—(AP)—Sad Sam Zoldak of the Cleveland Indians is going to merit a new nickname if he keeps on pitching like he did yesterday.

The once portly southpaw, now a streamlined 175 pounds, limited the New York Giants to two hits in six innings in an exhibition game at Phoenix.

The Tribe came from behind to rack up its third straight victory over the National Leaguers, 4-2. Sad Sam had two runs scored against him, but both were unearned. He now has pitched 16 consecutive innings without yielding an earned run.

The 27-year-old New Yorker, who came to the Indians in 1948, won only one game for the Tribe last season while losing two. His fine pitching performance during the exhibition season may earn him a more secure berth, however.

The Indians trailed, 2-0, when Early Wynn took over for Zoldak. Wynn allowed three hits for the last three rounds, giving the Giants a total of five. He was credited with the triumph, his fourth exhibition victory.

A wild throw by Al Rosen led to the Giants' first tally. Eddie Stanky, on first via a base on balls, reached second on the throw and scored when Whitey Lockman singled.

Salem Tourney Entries Pour In

Kelley Expects More Than 25 Quintets

With 17 teams definitely entered, Joe Kelley said today he expects the field in his Salem Independent Basketball Tournament to number over 25 by the end of the week.

The tournament will begin Monday night at the Memorial building, if the entry list is large enough. If not, Kelley said, it will begin later in the week.

Among the teams which have submitted entry blanks to date are: Ravenna Harpers, Bleep-Coombs of Cleveland, Margolis Market of East Liverpool, Alliance White Hollow, Beaver Falls, Sebring, McDonald, Berea, Sharon Hoyle Club, Youngstown Inn of Vienna.

Others which are certain to appear are the Elite Furniture of Washingtonville (Columbian Sportsmen), Canton Cals, Salem Mullins, Bliss, Fisher News, Amvets and the defending champions, Vienna Scott Service of Youngstown.

Inquiries have been received from Canton and Youngstown teams. One is composed of the Lowellville High School varsity. The tourney will conclude Saturday night with the final and consolation games. Preliminary rounds will be played each night next week.

Lakers Gain Finals Of Pro Playoffs

The Minneapolis Lakers, who always believe in getting there "fustest with the mostest," today led the way into the finals of the National Basketball Association playoffs.

The Lakers, powered by George Mikan's 37 points posted an 89 to 82 victory over the Fort Wayne Pistons last night and thus earned the right to represent the central division in the finals.

The Indianapolis Olympians, meanwhile, gained a 77 to 74 verdict over the Anderson Packers in the first game of their best-of-three western division finals.

Despite Mikan's prodigious scoring, the Lakers experienced plenty of trouble shaking off the Pistons. With only 45 seconds left, Fort Wayne pulled to within three points of Minneapolis, but two quick baskets by Vern Mikesen and Don Carlson enabled the Lakers to draw clear.

American Loop May Boost Attendance

CHICAGO, March 29—(AP)—A new major league attendance mark may be hoisted this season by the American League, judging from record-breaking advance ticket sales.

President Will Harridge, just back from his annual junket to the Florida spring training grounds, reports that pre-season sales are the greatest in the league's 50-year history.

"The Cleveland Indians are heading for $1,000,000 before the season opens," he says. "The Red Sox have about $750,000 in the bank. And Detroit had to stop selling season box seats so game-to-game fans would not be shut out. All clubs are reporting terrific advance sales."

The A. L. set a major league attendance high of 1,150,099 in 1948. Last year the games attracted 10,730,647.

"Two big factors in a possible chance for a new mark this season are the early weather and a continuation of the pennant battle into the final month," Harridge observed.

The junior circuit chief predicts another close race.

He indicated the March 1 restriction on spring training probably will be lifted when club owners and player representatives meet in Chicago July 11 when the annual All-Star game is held. Harridge said players he talked to in Florida favored an earlier start but want the March 10 deadline retained for the start of the exhibition schedule.

He looks for Connie Mack, who managed the first American League All-Star team in 1933, to be named honorary manager of the 1950 group which will be directed by Casey Stengel of the world champion Yankees.

La Motta Lowers Boom On Hunter

Stops Cleveland Negro In Sixth Round Flurry

CLEVELAND, March 29—(AP)—Middleweight Champion Jake LaMotta, 168½, battered a hapless Chuck Hunter into submission at 59 seconds of the sixth round in a non-title fight last night.

Referee Jackie Davis stopped the bout and awarded the rock-jawed LaMotta a technical knock-out after Hunter, a Cleveland, had been down for a count.

Hunter's hands were down and his eyes were glazed as the Bronx boy moved in for a finisher. That was when Davis stopped the arena feature, although many of the 8,181 fans shouted to let it go on.

The Negro fighter, who weighed 168½, had LaMotta outpointed the first two rounds with jabs and uppercuts. But LaMotta started on a rampage in the third and ripped and wore Hunter down.

The gate was $36,786.

LaMotta himself admitted Hunter was a tough customer and credited his strong chin with keeping him out of serious trouble.

Then he added, grinning, "How'd you like that little left that dropped him? Didn't look to be much, maybe, but, boy, was it right on the button."

County Has $20,000 Balance From Land Forfeiture Sales

LISBON, March 29—The Columbiana County treasury has approximately $20,000 in unclaimed monies representing the margin over and above taxes and costs in sales of delinquent and forfeited lands, Treasurer Vincent C. Judge announced today.

The sum realized from these sales over and above the tax delinquency and costs, rightfully belongs to the former property owner, he stated. However, it will be necessary for the claimant to file an action in the court and prove the claim beunclaimed money in the sum of $6,390.72, with approximately 200 foreclosure actions either pending or being prepared for filing in common pleas court.

Unclaimed money from forfeiture sales on Salem city property amounts to $1,505.19, the sums ranging from 86-cents to $260.28; while unclaimed funds from sales of Perry township property total $5,872.68 and range from $2.00 to $300. There is also $699.49 in unclaimed money from forfeiture sales of East Liverpool city property, ranging from $9.00 to $127, and in St. Clair township, $126.53 in sums ranging from $4.00 to $48.00.

Forfeiture proceedings are conducted, Treasurer Judge explained, when the delinquent taxes are in excess of the property valuation, and following certification to the state are sold to the highest bidder. Foreclosure proceedings are instituted when the property valuation is in excess of the tax delinquency and costs, and the property is sold through regular mortgage foreclosure proceedings.

Akron Woman Held For Drowning Child

AKRON, March 29—(AP)—An attractive, 19-year-old woman was held under guard in City Hospital today, charged with drowning her baby.

Police Captain John F. Struzenski said the woman, Mrs. Angelo Rose Du Fala, had admitted holding the 11-day-old infant, Thomas, face downward in his bath water yesterday.

The police captain said he had not been able to determine a motive for the act. A psychiatrist was called in to examine the woman last night, but he reported she was too agitated for immediate questioning.

FACES PRISON TERM

CANTON, March 29—(AP)—Marcel E. Pittier, 42, one-time manager of the Seaboard Finance Co. here, today faced a one-to-10 year term in Ohio penitentiary for embezzling $7,200 of the firm's money.

170 Attend Dinner Of Service Clubs

Enjoy life, yet don't fail to partake of the spiritual.

This, in brief, was the message given by Dr. Tennyson Guyer of Findlay, author and lecturer, when he addressed 170 members of four Salem service clubs at the annual joint dinner meeting of the organizations last night at the Masonic temple.

Clyde Dickson, immediate past president of the Lions club, sponsor of this year's meeting, introduced the speaker. William Blount, Lions president, was toastmaster.

Mr. Guyer, who injected humor throughout his talk, drove new life into familiar phrases of ancient and modern philosophers as he sought to lessen the fears of our day. He pointed to the many cheerful and good elements of this country and the world.

Besides the Lions club, the guests represented the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs and the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Paul Williams led group singing.

Robert Barton entertained the group throughout the meal with appropriate dinner music at the piano. The "Quaker City Four," High School male quartet, again scored favor with a short group of selections. In the quartet are Bob Zimmerman, Ben Bailey, Dick Daugherty and Bob Tarzan.

Columbiana C. Of C. Officers Installed

COLUMBIANA, March 29—Newly elected officers of the Columbiana Chamber of Commerce assumed office Monday evening. They are:

President, J. K. Harding; vice president, Willard Ferrall; treasurer, John Fitzpatrick; directors, Russell Barrow, James Churchfield, George Herrmann, William Keller, William Longshore and James Sittler. There is no change in the office of secretary as John L. Hutson is serving a three-year term.

The retiring president, vice president and treasurer, George Seederly, Lewis Way and E. B. Dillon, automatically become directors, making a board of nine.

Retiring Treasurer Dillon reported on hand a balance of $375.05 of some $1,900 collected during the year from dues and donations. Among the donations were contributions toward the extension of the Christmas lighting, the Christmas Eve carol sing and broadcast, community welcome signs at highway entrances, and from merchants for advertisement of community Christmas attractions and store hours.

The third Monday of every month at 8:30 p. m. was fixed as the regular meeting time. President Harding is expected to announce his committees soon in preparation for the annual membership drive.

2 Men Fined By Mayor For Disorderly Conduct

Rosta was fined $20 and costs and Coe $10 and costs by Mayor Harry M. Vincent this morning.

Columbiana Kiwanis Hears Lt. Governor

COLUMBIANA, March 29—Stuart B. Moreland of Toronto, lieutenant governor of the Fifteenth Division of Kiwanis, paid his official visit Monday evening to the Columbiana club.

Speaking on "Aggressive Citizenship—Safeguard of Freedom," Mr. Moreland said citizens are alarmed at the reckless spending of wage earners' excessive taxes, but that Americans still have the upper hand of government and can by aggressive citizenship change things to protect themselves.

He pointed out the great opportunities confronting Kiwanis today in safeguarding freedom by promoting community service, personal integrity and better government.

Mr. Moreland presented a trophy to the club for its attendance record, and a service certificate to Past President Clarence H. Koch.

W. J. Crawford reported that the bowling team of the Columbiana club placed 11th among the 41 teams in a state-wide Kiwanis match in Columbus last weekend. Musical entertainment was provided by "Jim and Dell," James Stewart of Columbiana and Miss Del Ludt of Youngstown, WFMJ entertainers.

Miss Miller

increased from 650,000 dozen pieces in 1935 to 5,000,000 in 1950. This plant is now one of the three largest in the country and the most mechanized in the industry.

First continuous kiln was installed in 1935, replacing the old periodic kilns. Now the firing process is accomplished by nine continuous kilns, three bisquit, three glaze and three decorating.

In 1937 the automatic application of gold decorations was initiated and was perfected by 1940. A new addition was started in 1946 to house an eight line automatic jigger, two single line automatic jiggers and an automatic slip house using the dry mix method of preparation. In 1947 another addition was completed housing a 300-foot straight glaze kiln. The following year the automatic application of underglaze colors was perfected and put into full operation.

When her company installed machinery which would take less manpower the workers were given to understand that there would be no layoffs, thus the company kept the confidence of its employees. "We have never closed down since the company began operations nearly 16 years ago," President Miller explained.

MISS MILLER is not afraid of hard work. In fact that is the ladder upon which she climbed to success. The Royal China Company was built upon courage and hard work, according to the president. Miss Miller loaded the first 48 box cars of dinnerware which were shipped from the plant, scrubbed floors and did other kinds of menial labor in the beginning of the organization.

But Miss Miller does not take all the credit for her company's success. However, she does claim to be the "spark plug." As president she is the driving force in the organization—but the plant belongs to the gang—officials and to all the people who work there.

Until last June she was also saleswoman for the company and traveled by plane from coast to coast.

Educated for the law profession Miss Miller gave up her ambition to become an attorney because she decided that this is a man's world. She thinks any woman smart who recognizes that fact, although she admits she once hired a man for a "front."

Another honor came to Miss Miller recently, when she was elected president of the Sebring Manufacturing Association. She is the only woman in the association. Interested in young people, Miss Miller is financial advisor for the Jaycees. Her dream for Sebring is a city park with a swimming pool.
